COLUMBUS PROFESSOR GOES ON TRIAL NEXT MONTH

ROGERS SIGNS UP AS A STOWAWAY TO CROSS COUNTRY

(Special to The News)
SANTA MONICA, Cal., June 24.—Outside of the heat, there just is not a bit of news in the papers. Government affairs never was as such a stagnant state. Mr. Hoover disappears every week-end and he might just as well be Lindy and Anne, as far as anybody knows where he is. Just signed a contract with Beverly Hills papers to stow-away on a bicycle that a fellow is going to ride from here to New York. An awful lot of boys and girls graduate this week all over the country. Ignorance is just about obliterated, only among the older people.
Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEWS OBSERVES

Down in the Seventh ward a skunk has selected a nest under a house to make some young ones according to a report to Pa News today. At least six of the young ones have already been taken from the nest and the occupants of the house are hoping that all of the little family have been removed.

Another storm, local in character swept across the city Sunday just as church was taking up. The business section and North Hill were all drenched but on the East Side and in the Croton district just a shower was noticed.

Pa News observed that the attendance in several of the churches was very light last evening. Good many cold weather Christians in New Castle, he believes.

Despite the fact that the weather looked threatening all Sunday afternoon there were plenty of motorists out on the roads surrounding New Castle.

Veterans of all wards are going to make whoopee at the Legion Home association building this evening. The Spanish War Vets are entertaining the two younger organizations, the Vets and the Legion. The boys of the latter crowd are going to present their older brethren with a flag.

There must be a lot of early golfers in this city. At 6:30 o'clock this morning, daylight time, there were ten or a dozen caddies along Highland avenue, waiting for rides out to the Field Club golf course.

While fireworks are prohibited in New Castle this year, there are some places outside the city where it is announced that fireworks are on sale. Residents of New Castle must remember that it is unlawful to set fireworks off in the city this year, even if they can be purchased elsewhere.

By JAMES K. KILGALLAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent
COLUMBUS, O., June 24.—Dr. James H. Snook, confessed slayer of Miss Theora K. Hix, attractive 24-year-old Ohio State university co-ed, today pleaded not guilty when arraigned in criminal court.

Date for his trial was set by Judge Robert Duncan for July 22. The "not guilty" plea by Snook was made in spite of the fact that he had signed, after an eighteen hour police grilling, a formal confession that he had murdered and knifed the girl to death on the night of June 13 "because she had threatened to kill his wife and baby."

The ex-college professor was handcuffed to another prisoner, also accused of murder, when he was arraigned.

"What is your plea—guilty or not guilty?" asked Judge Duncan, addressing Snook.

Trial set July 22
"Not guilty," replied Snook in a clear, firm voice.

LONDON, June 24.—Under the administration of General Gates Dawes, new American ambassador to the court of St. James, the United States embassy here will be "bone dry."
This was learned today when Ambassador Dawes was questioned as to whether he would take steps to dry up the embassy completely now that he has taken control.

The ambassador's answer was characteristically brief and to the point: "I never served liquor in my home in America," he said, "and I see no reason to change the custom now."

Larger Army Of Enforcement Agents Also Waging Border Battle

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The present drive to enforce prohibition is by long odds the most concentrated and serious the government has undertaken in the nearly ten years of Volsteadism. Equipped with more money, more enforcement agents, more guns, more swift patrol boats than ever before, and supported by the Jones Law imposing its stiff penalties for prohibition violation as for burglary, the great summer offensive is on from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

If the Martin Gantz school property is sold by the New Castle school board the sale price must not be less than $100,000, according to a resolution passed by the board at the special meeting Saturday evening.

Just four more days and the Battery B celebration will occur out in Mt. Jackson with the usual ceremony. The affair will last the entire day and hundreds will visit the little North Beaver village.

Friday too will be a big day in the town of Volant. The annual cattle and field day is scheduled to occur on Friday. Dr. C. G. Jordan will be the main speaker at the affair. The field day is a miniature county fair and last year was attended by hundreds.

A little gallivanting over the week-end took Pa Newco down to the flower arena of Harry Good in Enon Valley. There the flowers are in bloom and there that you could hope to mention in an entire column and their beauty would keep poets extolling them for ages to come.

The state highway department continues to repair and clean up along the highways. Mowing the grass and weeds by the roadsides seems to be the vogue for the workmen at the present time.

People seem to like the warm weather. Saturday night's heat brought out hordes of persons on the street and walking down Washington street was like trying to get through a jam of criss cross traffic.

Pa Newco doesn't know the exact figures but he believes Sunday had all week end thus far overshadowed by the fact that auto traffic is concerned. Cars lined the highways in streams and down town traffic was heavy in the evening.

From several of the county men we hear that rain is a necessary thing right now. Crops are not in such an immediate danger but fruit trees planted this spring are on the downward path and many are dead.

It arranged with him, before he left San Diego, whereby he would keep a diary from the day he entered Russia and in this diary he would each evening write the story of the day. Mr. Wilson agreed that he would not thereafter change a single jot or tittle of the diary notwithstanding his subsequent observations of the Russian might very materially change his viewpoint as to conditions, and make his first thoughts seem foolish.

There was method in this madness. Russia since the revolution, statesmen and near statesmen, socialists and capitalists, have spent perhaps a week in Moscow, been entertained by those who had "an axe to grind" and come back to tell the world about Russia, either how great or how little was the Russian idea of government and the social compact. It is very natural that their report would be colored by their desires. They neither had the time nor the wish to report.

Some of these visitors saw only the strong, some saw only the weak. They could only see a small part of it, and, granting even that they were honest, their conclusions were colored by the small part which they did see.

Mr. Wilson saw much from Lenin and Trotsky and across Siberia to Harbin. He talked with Stalin and many more of the Inner Circle. He observed the everyday life of the Russian and his diary contributes to a mighty interesting bit to "The World and the Mud Puddles."

This diary will be published from day to day in that column on the editorial page of The News. The first installment is printed today.

He showed no outward signs of fear as he took his place in the chair, but when the leather mask was adjusted over his face there came a shudder of terror. STAR LORE
A GENIUS SENSING TRUTH
By Arthur Dev. Carpenter.

About the year 500 B. C., was born a famous Greek-physician who was the first man recorded in history to advance the idea that the earth is spherical, rotates every 24 hours upon its axis, and moves through space. The weakness of Pythagoras and his school, however, was that they did not work out their theories with any precise mathematical detail. When Aristotle rejected them 200 years later, he projected them in favor of a flat, stationary earth, and a rotating universe, for the latter appeared to the senses. Thus astronomy was held back for nearly 200 years.

Sir Esme's Faux Pas.
MacDonald Reads Hazlitt.
Some Flying.
J. P. Morgan Groceries.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE

Syn., Inc.)

Sir Esme Howard may have "got in right" when he promised to make the British embassy dry. But he got in very wrong on Thursday when he committed "private" with Senator Borah about reduction of the navy, freedom of the seas and closer relations between this country and Great Britain.

Senator Borah is head of the senate committee on foreign affairs and foe to talk in anybody.

But Sir Esme is accredited ambassador, not to Senator Borah, but to Herbert Hoover, and the United States government.

Foreign ambassadors, if they have anything to say, are supposed to say it to the state department, or the president.

The Esme Howard-Borah talk recalls the incident of Citizen Genet. If President Hoover were fussy, Sir Esme might find himself persona non grata.

Ramsay MacDonald, flying from Scotland in a British bombing plane, a parachute strapped over his leather flying coat, read Hazlitt on the way.

Hazlitt, who worked himself into a fury over the French revolution, quarreling with everybody that did not approve it, little thought that within 100 years of his death, a Socialist Laborite would be prime minister of England, without any revolution.

Still less did Hazlitt imagine that a British Labor prime minister would fly to his work.

Max D. Steuer, brilliant New York lawyer, says the best cure for any man that fear death is Hazlitt's essay on death.

Brilliant Hazlitt says that since we don't worry because we were not alive 100 years ago, we should not worry because we won't be alive or conscious 100 years hence.

The first time Ramsay MacDonald became prime minister to England he had a most unusual and disastrous strike in Britain's history.

Now he comes to office as second time, and British cotton mill owners announce reductions in wages affecting 200,000 pinners.

Ramon Franco, with three companions, started from Spain Tuesday morning, hoping to reach the Azores at 2:30 a. m. Saturday. From the Azores he comes here to fly back from Halifax to northern Spain.

Ten days will be devoted to the ocean-bound trip, including a visit to Washington.

On this side of the ocean, Miss Viola Gentry flew up to break the non-stop refueling record if possible.

"Babe" Meigs of Chicago, so-called because he is six and one-half feet high, flew from Chicago to New York and Friday at the Ritz Carlton told Henry Ford, sitting at the next table, that his Ford's airplane, that Meigs bought a year ago, is as good as any made.

Mr. Ford was pleased, but was more interested in the Meigs, for the Ford museum, the engine of an old steam threshing machine that Meigs used to drive when he was 17 years old on his father's farm.

Mr. Ford looked remarkably well and resisted only feebly when Theodore, the Ritz Carlton boss, insisted on feeding him fancy breast of chicken, made abnormally white by something smeared over it.

J. Pierpont Morgan, hereditary engineer of big mergers, has put together, in a little $450,000,000 concern, several important food producing companies. Other companies may join the merger, creating an interesting situation for chain stores.

At present special brands are somewhat at the mercy of chain store owners, who tell manufacturers what to produce, what to charge, what profit they may have.

A big enough food combine might be able to tell chain stores what they must do.

The humble cow is a milk comb, the spreading chestnut tree and blackberry show have been changed to a small parrot. The blacksmith shop is working for "big steel" established by J. Pierpont Morgan's father. Now the corner grocery becomes one bullet in a rapid-fire food machine.

SALLY'S SALLIES

Some people think the loose leaf system was something they used in the Garden of Eden.

A man was put into jail when he found wearing a necktie and no shirt. There are men who wear both shirts and neckties so disorderly in color and also often with dirt, they should also be arrested and put into jail—or sunbath.

ALL YOU NEED TO DO TO WHISK A CHICKEN'S NECK IS WRING IT. The other day I told a friend that marital law could make an end of any city's crime wave.

"It couldn't be done," said he. Which reminded me of a magistrate who once reigned in this village. He sent a woman to the chain-gang. Later the case got into a higher court and the horrified solicitor said to the magistrate: "You can't put a woman on the chain-gang."

"The hell I can't!" said the magistrate. "She's there, isn't she?" There are so many things that "can't be done" until some fool comes along who doesn't know they can't be, and then he does them and a problem that baffled the best minds is solved.

There isn't a national or international problem that couldn't be solved if men of common sense had the power enough and guts enough to do the obvious thing necessary to solve it.

Scrappling navies, for example. "It can't be done," the wise ones say. The correct answer to that is "Blah." The way to scrap them is to scrap them—hit and blimp—look, stock and barrel, and there's an end of it.

One reason we do not think the dictionary knows it all is because it never gives husband as a synonym for minority.

Two Yale college students were fined $100 and sent to jail for 30 days on the day they graduated for driving an automobile while intoxicated—not the automobile—and assault on a chap they tried to rob. It will be interesting what they are figuring on making their occupation for life's work.

It seems one voice said, "Who are you, please?"

"Wait."

"Beg pardon. What's your name?"

"Wait's your name?"

"What's your name?"

"My name is John Wait."

"John what?"

"Yes, John Wait."

"Well, I'll be around to see you this afternoon."

"Right. Are you Jones?"

"No, I am Knott."

"Well, will you tell me your name, then?"

"Will Knott."

"Why not?"

"My name is Knott."

"Not what?"

Bread is being delivered to most all the farm houses in this county every day now. Living on a farm isn't so bad any more and if it were not for the hard work and lonesome evenings one could stand it at least in the winter time.

Consider the ant. He is so busy working he breaks up other people's parties.

Butler Clerk, thoughtfully: "You know, Tom, there's no question has puzzled me since childhood."

Vegetable Man: "What's that?"

B. C.: "Can a shortsighted man have a far-away look in his eyes?"

Good habits won't grow without a heap of coaxing.

We read that dry agents will not be allowed to carry sawed off shotguns and other heavy artillery after this. They will have to confine their shooting to the service pistol. We have seen some of that kind of cannon that would dig a cave when fired.

WISDOMS

I wish I had a little boy. That no one cared to borrow. I wish that I could meet the note. That's coming due tomorrow.

I wish I had a better car. To take on my vacation. I wish I didn't live so far from Mary's habitation.

I wish I had a little wife. To keep my things in order. I wish I might enjoy my life. And cease to be a boarder.

I wish I knew who cries my smokes. When I go out to dinner. I wish that I could laugh at jokes. And not get any thinner.

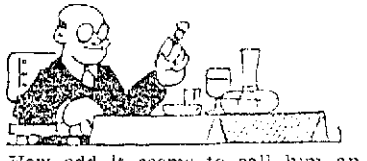

But most of all, if I may tell. Of course they're far below me. I wish I knew myself as well. As some folks seem to know me.

He hasn't the true reform complex unless he gets mad when somebody suggests being reasonable.

A Detroit young lady was the winner of a prize given in the National Wayside Beauty contest. Her slogan was "This is Your Country—Beautiful." The prize is a three-day free trip to Washington, where President Hoover makes the presentation. "This was a contest for beautifying the highways and other places and not attempts to make faces other than they naturally look.

Be yourself—if other people will stand for it.

How odd it seems to call him an efficiency expert when it takes him two hours to eat lunch.

A blue automobile figured in that nasty Columbus, O., murder in which a college professor figured and the victim being a young woman who was always supposed to have men—at least in the daytime. This highway low down stuff is getting to be simply terrible and most always a peculiar colored automobile figures in it. We have a notion to get one of ours repainted.

Experience in managing men doesn't seem to count for much in the art of managing women.

When the great Morgan's will was read, many were astonished by its expression of sincere and humble faith in Jesus. When Zach died, many were surprised by the newspaper stories that revealed his supreme faith in the guiding hand of God. There should be no surprise at such revelations. I think no great works are accomplished by men who have not learned to pray; and while "big" men have too much simple dignity to make a display of their piety, I believe that in every ten of those who dominate the world have faith in God and His love and wisdom.

"What is an oyster?" the teacher asked a small boy.

There was a painful pause, and then:

"An oyster is a fish that is built like a nut, Miss Carter."

One day last week delegates from the Lutheran church held a convention at River Ford, Illinois. One of the things the delegates went on record against was the fondling of criminals and they were strong against anything that would do away with the death penalty for those who deserve it. There is evidently a lot of the spirit of the great Luther still in existence in some parts of this country.

WOMEN'S FEET LARGER

Women's ankles average half an inch larger and their feet two sizes under than five years ago, we learn from the president of the National Shoe Retailers' association, Low-heel, of Oxford in place of the high-heeled, tightly laced boots formerly so stylish, are the cause. That and the reason women are more sensible, it does than they used to be. Who cares? We admire 'em, feet and all.

Life would be dull if we knew what it was all about.

We have never seen as many elderly-berry blossoms as there are this year. Some scandalous stuff can be and is made out of these innocent looking little white blossoms. "Surrender!"

The French treat him with remarkable courtesy and speak of him with a twinkle in the eye. A man from the sides again plays the part of a clown. But how that man has changed! exclaims the ST. PAUL PIONEER PRESS. The SAVANNAH MORNING NEWS states: "He is the prince of mischief." He has received boyish hair, a boyish and a boyish, then it will be time to wonder what here worship and acclaim as worth." The NEW ORLEANS ITEM describes the incident: "He becomes a hero by climbing on an airplane at one place, and climbing off again at another. An ant from the vast swarm of humanity becomes an eagle by SCRAMBLED SEXES. Gather round and hear Annabelle rave. She is an eye might call fashion's slave. In a bobber shop chair. She dozed off, I declare. And the bobber man gave her a shave. Lord Helpem.

Faithfulness to a few things renders us master of many things.

In these days of earned music and drive-it-yourself pianos, the child war starts out in music and sticks to it as far as the A flat major scale is Dr. C. A. Tindley Here Wednesday

Noted Colored Minister Of Philadelphia To Speak
Twice

EVENING SESSION IN THE CATHEDRAL

Dr. Charles A. Tindley, pastor of the Tindley M. E. Temple at Philadelphia and the most outstanding colored minister of the 20th century, has been secured by the New Castle Ministerial association for two special services to be held in New Castle on Wednesday, June 26.

The afternoon service will be conducted in the First Baptist church, corner of East and North streets, at 2:30 with the pastor, Rev. George M. Landis, presiding. The evening service will be held in the Cathedral at 8 o'clock. Rev. S. R. Matland will preside. Both services will be conducted on a delightful savings time.

An outstanding feature of the evening will be a colored chorus of 37 voices under the able leadership of Mrs. Katherine Bury. This chorus will sing a number of special selections.

Honorable W. H. Gillespie, mayor of New Castle, with other officials will give Dr. Tindley a welcome to this city. Mayor Gillespie has also consented to have the merchants of New Castle display the flags in honor of the distinguished guest.

Dr. Tindley is one of America's leading platform speakers. He is a preacher, lecturer and author and is held in high esteem by all who know him. He is now serving his church for the 28th year.

The Tindley M. E. Temple stands as a monument to the work he is doing with the people of his race. He has the largest membership of any church in the United States. Ten thousand colored and 600 white people are included in his membership. At the last meeting of the New Castle Ministerial association, the members voted to close down the Wednesday evening service and to unite for the union service at the Cathedral.

It is expected that both the afternoon and evening services will be attended by large audiences to hear this prominent minister of the gospel. This is Dr. Tindley's second visit to New Castle. He was here some years ago and spoke in the First Methodist church to a large congregation.

BORAH TO SUPPORT EXPORT DEBENTURE IN TARIFF BATTLE

Cratic-Insurgent coalition for another agriculture battle in connection with the tariff. Members of the Insurgent bloc already have declared their intention of fighting for adoption of the new Norris debenture plan as a part of the tariff bill. The Norris plan, differing slightly from the old one, would provide for the payment of all debentures on exported surplus crops to the new Federal Farm Board for use in paying the cost of operating stabilization corporations.

Battle Lines Drawn

The battle lines were drawn distinctly when Senator Reed Smoot (R.) of Utah, veteran chairman of the Senate Finance committee, announced he would oppose all efforts to attach the debenture to the tariff bill. Smoot echoed Mr. Hoover's plea that the plan as a bounty, certain to break hardship on the American people, increase tax burdens and fall as a relief measure to farmers.

The Senate Finance committee meanwhile continued its public hearings on rate schedules with a subcommittee handling agricultural products, the busiest. The committee will conclude its rate hearings by July 16 with another two weeks for hearings on the administrative features and the free list. After that, it probably will require from three to four weeks for the committee to redraft the bill. At present indications, it may not be ready for the Senate when that body reconvenes August 19 after a two-month vacation.

Borah Offers Support

Borah, in declaring he would again support the debenture, said he had not studied the Norris plan and therefore would not commit himself to that particular provision. He said he would support the debenture, though, as a certain means of giving agriculture its fair share of the protective tariff.

"The American farmer does not desire to tear down the protective tariff system," said Borah. "He has been about the most faithful advocate, considering the meager benefits he has received, that it has had in its long history."

But he has a desire to share it. What he is asking under the debenture and when he seeks sufficient duties to protect the home market is that he may share the protective system.

"Those who are advocating the debenture are advocating it as part of a just system of protection and as a part and parcel of that system. They are advocating it in no sense as a gratuity, or favor, or gift."

Islands Off Italy Get Water By Ship

Corrects Error

He listened carefully to the reading of the indictment returned against him late Friday by the Franklin county grand jury comprised of eight women and seven men. He was prompt and emphatic in his plea of "not guilty."

As an indication of Snook's mental poise, when the prosecutor called the case of a man accused of defrauding a local hotel, the ex-college professor smiled when Chester read the indictment charging the prisoner with "defrauding" an "hotel keeper."

The prosecutor immediately re-read it, "a hotel keeper" correcting the grammatical error.

The hard part of governing a republic is to do what is sensible without offending the fanatics who compose the current majority.

Many of the small islands of the south coast of Italy are almost entirely without water, and the islanders have to depend on their supplies on the cargoes of the previous voyage brought from the mainland in this way.

ROME, June 24. The curious trade of selling water to thirsty islanders will be followed by the steamship Egnadi, which has just been launched at a Venice shipyard.

Built specially for this trade, the Egnadi carries huge fresh water-tanks from which the water will be pumped ashore.

Spherical Bodies

By S. S. MYERS

It is true that there are some who maintain that the earth is flat. Why is it that the earth is round? Yes, there are still some people who insist that the earth is flat. Prominent among these is a young man of the name of John C. ... of Lake Michigan. He has a standing offer of $500 to any one who will prove the earth is round. So there is a chance to earn some money if you can prove the earth is round. There is a school district in ... where the teacher who teaches that the earth is round. It would seem that other men have traveled around the earth by land and sea and through the air, and with the sun, moon, and stars, as globe shaped examples and such. All our knowledge of the world is based on the fact that the earth is round. The Bible alludes to the fact that the earth is round, and now can anything with four corners be round? They interpret the "four corners" literally instead of getting the real meaning, which alludes to the four points of the compass—north, south, east and west. But there are other statements in the Bible which are interpreted with the same show of expediency as some people, so what are we going to do about it?

In reply to your second question, the fact that the earth and all other heavenly bodies are globe shaped is due to the law of gravitation. Every particle of matter attracts every other particle with a force that is proportional to the mass of particles and inversely proportional to the square of the distance between them.

Answer to Yesterday's Puzzle

UPSIDE DOWN AND A STRANGER!

There's no telling what might have happened to Peter if he really had fallen sound asleep on his perch on the goldenrod stalk. The chances are that he would have had a bad fall. But he was suddenly awakened from his drowse, luckily for him. His nose tickled and he woke up with a start.

Putting up his hand to brush away what he thought was a fly, Peter's hand touched something that felt soft and fat and fuzzy. And at the very same moment a sharp buzz sounded in Peter's ear.

"Hi there! Don't do that again, young Two-Legs. Do you want to upset me and send me sprawling to the ground? Anyhow I am tired now, and I don't feel like beginning all over again."

Who was talking? What was he talking about? At this very odd speech Peter's eyes flew wide open. And just as when in the grass he had found himself gazing straight into the eyes of the cross Old Man of the Meadow, now he discovered himself at close quarters with a fat, round head which seemed all staring eyes—a head which appeared to be hung on a tiny silken cord that dropped down from nowhere. The sight so startled the boy that he fell over backwards from off his goldenrod perch, and bumped his head on a piece of stubble.

The round, fat face at the end of the string lowered itself until it was swinging right over Peter's head. Then, quite as if nothing had happened to poor Peter, it continued the conversation. Now its buzz was most polite.

"I beg your pardon, young stranger. I didn't mean to frighten you, really and truly. I didn't. But I had just about decided to drop a bit of glue on the end of your nose when you gave me such a blow as made my back ache!"

"Why shouldn't I see what is going on all around me with eight eyes to look with?"

Peter forgot all about the hurt of his tumble.

"Glue!" repeated he, stammering in his surprise. "Glue! You were going to drop glue on the end of my nose! What did you want to do that for?"

The eyes in the fat face twinkled. Peter was almost sure the mouth in the fat face smiled.

"Well you see I didn't know it was the end of your nose. It looked like a smooth spot and a fine spot on which to fasten the first strand of my web. For I was just starting to spin one."

The secret was out. The fat round face belonged to a fellow Peter knew well.

"Oh, then you are Spider himself," declared Peter, picking himself up from the stubble and starting at the fat face swinging above him.

"Who else?" demanded Spider. "I must say I can't imagine why you didn't guess that the second you spied me." Peter chuckled.

"It makes a difference how you meet a fellow and when and where!" said he. "I've never seen you upside down before Mr. Spider. You were in no position for any 'but your best friend to recognize you!'"

Next: "What's the Matter With Spider?"

But, to be polite,
HE SAID:

"B.O." cheated Evelyn out of popularity . . .

until she discovered that perspiration need never offend

PRETTY, gay, marvelous dancer—Evelyn should have been the hit of any party. But she wasn't!

Why? Everybody knew—except Evelyn. Luckily though, Evelyn's new sister-in-law was very frank. There's no "B. O."—no body odor—marrying Evelyn's attractiveness now. She was told the easy way to keep perspiration odorless.

What a giveaway "B. O." is! Treacherous! Always betraying, but never warning the offender

Don't be deceived. We can't tell when we are guilty because our sense of smell becomes deadened to an ever-present odor. But even when we don't seem to perspire, the pores give off as much as a quart of odor-causing waste daily.

Play safe—bathe with Lifebuoy. Its mild, antiseptic lather purifies pores deeply—prevents embarrassing odor. Even removes cigarette smells from the fingers.

Skins, too, stay smooth, clearer with Lifebuoy. Health is safeguarded—it removes germs. You'll love Lifebuoy's pleasant extra-clean scent, which tells you it purifies, yet quickly vanishes as you rinse. Adopt Lifebuoy today.

Close Movie Because Man Sits With Wife

(Special To The News)
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 24.—If you ever go to Holland do not sit with your wife in a motion picture house. A story is told by George R. Canty, trade commissioner at Paris in a dispatch to the department of commerce of how authorities in the little town of Ruephen, Holland closed the only motion picture house of the town for five years because a man was found sitting with his wife in the theater. The single cinema in Holland is governed by municipal law which is unique among the laws governing public places of amusement. On the grounds of public morality, it is said male and female patrons of the movie whether married or not must sit apart during the show.

Uncle Sam Tries To Help Textiles

Goes Into Field Of Dress-making To Stimulate Cotton Textile Business

(Special To The News)
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 24.—With a mouthful of pins and a pair of shears Uncle Sam has gone into the field of dressmaking to see what can be done to thwart the depression threatening our cotton textile business.

And thus far, government officials have expressed satisfaction with the venture to the extent of assuring its continuance. The first step of this campaign to better the health of the textile mills was the creation of a committee of cotton fiber experts from the department of commerce, the department of agriculture and the cotton textile institute. And working with the dual aim in view—the reduction of costs of production and the creation of new cotton fabrics to vie with artificial silks—the new committee feels it has justified its existence through results.

New uses—that's the chief aim motivating the efforts of the committee. And the committee is ready to do just about anything to develop new uses.

The health appeal is one factor which this committee is using with a vengeance. Children's sun suits are an example. The committee has worked much on the designing of children's clothing that will be hygienic and comfortable, and has done much to develop interest in these very brief backless suits selling this summer by the hundreds of thousands to parents in all parts of the country who have been convinced their children should have plenty of sun.

But the committee isn't satisfied with creating these sun suits as a new outlet for cotton cloths, it is continuing a very thorough study of the weight and character of infants' garments worn in different sections of the nation, with the assistance of state colleges, to determine recent tendencies.

And now comes the pair of shears—the committee is conducting a style promotion program for well-styled women's dresses and is publishing summaries of important style news at regular intervals in a bulletin called Flashes of Fashion. These flashes contain the latest information about fabrics and styles, as reported from style centers here and abroad.

Good style without frequent changes of style, the committee feels, would go far toward aiding in the stabilization of the textile industry, and would prove less costly to the consumer as well as the manufacturer.

Protest Allowing Leon Trotzky To Re-Enter Country

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 24.—A vigorous protest against any consideration being given Leon Trotzky's desire to return to the United States was lodged today by Representative Albert Johnson (D) of Washington, chairman of the House immigration committee. "It is preposterous," Johnson said, "that this man, who left this country and denounced it, and who reached such a position of power in Russia that his word brought death to millions, should now seek re-entry to the country which he damned upon leaving."

Johnson was assured the chances of Trotzky's being permitted to come to the United States are next to nil.

BEE SWARM AT CITY BUILDING IN LANCASTER, PA.

(International News Service)
LANCASTER, Pa., June 24.—Windows in the municipal building here clattered down with the clamor of a rushing barrage during the heat wave recently when a swarm of bees crazed by the burning temperatures, had determined siege to the city offices.

The swarming first centered its attack on the first floor but retreated in disorder before the barred windows. Next day the bees made so far as town officials were concerned the bees swarmed upon Mayor Musser and his staff on the second floor.

Again repulsed the busy honey-mongers took up a strategic position under the eaves of the building, their warning drone serving to empty Penn Square normally the lively business section of inoffensive citizens.

Next morning the winged army was gone as mysteriously as it had come, much to the relief of the employees.

ALLEGED DISORDERLY HOUSE IS RAIDED

Kennedy was fined $25, the woman inmate $10 and the white men put up forfeits of $10 each for which they failed to return.

DEBOIS, Pa., June 24.—Lee Schoenhair, youthful pilot whose plane was wrecked here yesterday as the outcome of his attempt to set a non-stop cross-country record from Los Angeles to New York, said that he was not discouraged by his mishap and would make an attempt to complete the trip.

Schoenhair flew from Los Angeles to Cleveland in 12 hours and 20 minutes, being halted in the Ohio city on Saturday night by adverse weather. He attempted to continue on to New York yesterday, but thunder storms forced him to land at the military airport near here. When the plane cleared the runway, it attempted to resume the flight, only to crash on the bumpy ground at the edge of the field, wrecking his Lockheed-Vega monoplane, Goodrich Silverton.

The pilot said he planned to ship the plane's engine back to the factory to put in a new plane. The wreckage was completely wrecked.

Fire And Explosion Wrecks
Pittsburgh Overall Supply
Company Sunday

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 24.—Albert Wiener, 29, one of the owners of the Penn Overall Supply Company, died today, bringing the toll to two in the fire and explosion which destroyed the plant yesterday.

James Gallagher, 27, an employee, was burned to death when he took a light extension into the filtration tank beneath the floor of the company shop. The light bulb broke when Gallagher, overcome by fumes of gas, fell into the tank. It was believed.

Two others were injured. Sam Kalb, partner of Wiener, and Fred J. Luffey, another employee.

Hearing the cry of Gallagher and the explosion, Wiener went into the tank to rescue his employee. His clothing caught fire and the two men were hauled out by Kalb and Luffey. Firemen were forced to don gas masks and fight the blaze, which continued more than an hour before it could be brought under control.

Ruth Livermore's Trial Is On Today

New Battle For Freedom Opens
In Youngstown; Husband
To Testify

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 24.—More than fourteen months after the crime she is said to have committed took place, Ruth Marie Livermore, 22, former school teacher, goes on trial before Judge David G. Jenkins for the burglary of the home of John N. Mitchell, Raccoon Road.

The Mitchell home was looted of $7,500 in jewelry and furs on April 16, 1928.

Ruth has been in Marysville Reformatory since last October, when Judge George H. Glassner sentenced her to life imprisonment after she pleaded guilty to the Mitchell burglary.

Her common law husband, Lester Livermore, who was sentenced to life in Ohio Penitentiary at the same time, when he also pleaded guilty, has been subpoenaed as a witness on Ruth's behalf.

The trial here this week is the result of a battle waged by Attorney Ben Sacharow of Cleveland since last fall. Sacharow charged that Ruth was misled into pleading guilty and was given to understand that if she pleaded guilty she would have to serve only a year or two.

Sacharow filed a motion to vacate the plea of guilty. This motion was fought in a sensational hearing last December, which lasted for a week.

At the end, Judge David Thomas of Marietta, sitting in the case, overruled the motion. Ruth was returned to Marysville and later in January, the case was carried to the Court of Appeals. On April 22, the Appeals Court granted the motion and ordered Ruth returned here for trial.

Prosecutor Ray L. Thomas first filed a motion for a new hearing before the Court of Appeals, then, incensed at the language in which the court had upheld Sacharow's motion, he demanded that the indictment against Ruth be nolle.

Judge Jenkins refused to nolle the indictment and Ruth was returned here June 6 to start trial.

Thomas himself will conduct the prosecution of the case, aided by Vern Thomas and James Cooper, assistant prosecutors. Sacharow will represent Ruth again.

Five reasons for sugar in the diet

Scientist talks about this healthful food

ONE OF THE great food scientists of the country told us not long ago, "Sugar not only has an important use in the diet of nearly everyone—it has five distinct uses."

"First of all, it is a great conservator of many foods, especially fruits. In the second place, as a flavoring substance, it is most valuable in making nearly all foods much more appetizing. In this way it leads to the eating of a more balanced diet. The third point I would call to your attention about sugar is its value as a satiation factor. Ending a meal with a sweet gives a sense of satisfaction—of having had just enough."

"Perhaps the best known use of sugar is as a staple fuel for keeping the human body active. Sugar is more rapidly digested than starch, and it ranks with starch as a vital food for every normal person."

"The final point about sugar is its adaptability as an emergency fuel. Sugar is rapidly absorbed in the system."

It is always helpful to get the opinion of a recognized authority on any important subject. In a day when food fads are so much in evidence it is a part of wisdom to discover exactly how important sugar is in the diet of all of us.

The sensible way to well-being is to eat all kinds of healthful fresh and canned fruits and vegetables, sweetened to taste. Remember the value of puddings, ice creams, and cakes for dessert. A bit of sweet makes the meal complete. The Sugar Institute.

this section and use Ten Herbs, the famous new medicine with the ten wonderful herbal ingredients. Ten Herbs must be as represented, or so many of your fellow-citizens would not be using and recommending it to other sufferers. Many words of praise for Ten Herbs are heard at Boker's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington St., this city, where this successful compound is being introduced.

"Ten Herbs ended my ailments—rejuvenated my whole system and made me feel better in every way," said Mr. William J. Shenkel, 43 Fall Street, Mt. Washington, Pittsburgh, Pa. "I had rheumatic pains in my legs and pains across my back caused by disordered kidneys. I was compelled to get up three or four times a night, and had to keep taking something because of constipation. My stomach was out of order, and food did not digest like it should. There were few things I could eat without being bothered with gas, which caused bloating. My stomach always seemed to be in a sour, acid condition. At times I became so dizzy that I would stagger on the street, I felt drowsy and lacked ambition. My nerves were in such a state I could not sleep well."

"Ten Herbs changed all these conditions. The terrible rheumatic pains and the stiffness in my legs have entirely left me, and so have the pains in my back. My bowels are regular, and my liver and kidneys are working like they should. Dizzy spells are things of the past. I enjoy my meals, and can eat any kind of food without fear of distress afterwards—no more gas or bloating. My nerves are quiet, so at night I can get restful sleep. I do not hesitate to tell others what Ten Herbs has done for me, and I shall be glad if you will publish this statement."

Ten Herbs is being introduced at Boker's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, and is sold by all leading drug and medicine stores throughout this entire section.

Uncle Sam Becoming Richer Every Year

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
WASHINGTON, June 24—Uncle Sam's treasury is becoming richer every year and more money, despite successive reductions in income and corporation tax, and to yield handsome profits year after year again has been demonstrated by remarkable tax collection figures made public at the treasury today.

With six business days of the fiscal year yet to be reported, both income and corporation tax and customs receipts were far greater than the entire 1928 period. On the basis of today's figures and having an unusual appropriation except that of $45,000,000 to railroads for additional compensation for handling the mails, the government will have a surplus of well over $200,000,000.

Over Half Billion
Up to Saturday, income tax collections for June were well over a half-billion dollars, exceeding all of 1928 by more than $50,000,000. For the fiscal year tax collections exceeded $2,200,000,000, and were about $11,000,000 greater than for all of 1928.

On the other hand, up to Saturday for the year the government had spent $3,711,867,000, greater than for the entire 1928 period by $78,000,000. Uncle Sam's overhead for the 1929 year will exceed that of 1928 by over $100,000,000 according to indications, or the most expensive peace-time year in history.

Public Debt Reduced
The public debt will be reduced about $800,000,000, to a new total of approximately $16,804,000,000. That was in contrast to the peak figure in August 1919, of something over $28,000,000,000. The reduction since 1919 represents a savings in interest to the government of nearly $300,000,000 a year. The saving as a result of the 1929 reduction will be somewhat under $40,000,000.

The heavy volume of imports to satisfy the demands of the American buying public was demonstrated by the increase in customs duties. To date collections were about $590,000,000, a gain of $32,000,000 over the same period last year.

History Pageant At Lancaster, Pa.

Program Being Carried Out In Observance Of 200th Anniversary Of City

(International News Service)
LANCASTER, Pa., June 24—Wearing elaborate costumes patterned after those worn by their forebears and authentic as to period and style, more than 3,000 persons tonight will begin the re-enactment of the outstanding events of 200 years in history at the Pageant of Gratitude which continues through Wednesday night.

The pageant is the feature of Lancaster's 200th anniversary celebration, attended by 25,000 persons and culminates months of preparation by men and women prominent in the city and county.

A large majority of the participants, bearing the same names as their direct ancestors, will portray the parts of their forefathers in the early history of the county. In addition will be the atmosphere of early days lent by the display of tables, glassware, chairs and other things that have been handed down from one generation to another from the days of the early settlers.

Ministers and representatives of every religious sect will take part in the program. Representative Aaron B. Hess, speaker of the state House, will head the state's group, including all the county's representatives at Harrisburg. It is hoped that Governor John S. Fisher will view the pageant.

Four divisions for the program—historical, symbolic, choral and military—will be made among the three thousand volunteer thespians. Added to this will be the celebration band of 50 pieces, two choruses of trained voices and the narrative of 100 male voices.

CHICAGO, June 24—Eager fans crowded the courtroom of Judge Charles Miller of Benton, Ill., sitting here for vacation relief, for resumption of testimony in the $250,000 breach of promise suit of pretty Miss Ann Livingston of Tulsa against Franklin S. Harding, 61-year-old millionaire oil burner manufacturer. Miss Livingston's attorney promised that a second batch of alleged love letters would be read to the court. Fans and jury. They deal, the attorney said, with the wedding and honeymoon plans of Harding before he was said to have "gilted" the pretty divorcee and married the former Mrs. Fugate Weems of Georgia.

Straighten Out Land Legalities

Playground Is In Use But City Ordinance Makes Exchange Legal

When councilmen convened today at the city building they reported favorably from committee, ordinances as follows:

Grading of East Division street between DuShane street and Cunningham avenue.

Consideration and purchase of land in the Sixth ward and naming of a street thereto as Pottery street.

The land will be bought from the Shenango Pottery.

The ordinance, however, is merely an exchange as the Pottery paid the city for the former playground and in return sold to the city land which was more desirable for playground purposes.

McCleary avenue under another ordinance will be abandoned from Shenango river to the Shenango Pottery.

Monsignor Joseph Smith and will no doubt firmly imbed himself in the hearts of the members of his new parish, as he has done here.

Describes Scenes In Holy Land To Rotary Members

Noon Hour Session At The Castleton

Robert A. McKinney, local business man, gave a brilliant Bible lesson, recounted his recent trip to the Holy Land, before members and guests at the noon hour session of the New Castle Rotary Club in The Castleton at noon today.

Mr. McKinney, in comparing Christian civilization to the Mohammedan, said that the world is better than the best Mohammedan.

Concerning the Dead sea, the speaker said he had always believed that it was a stagnant body of water as its name would imply. "It is not. Instead it is one of the most beautiful lakes they could be found. The water is very clear."

Knife And Hatchet Used In Battle By Two Negroes

When Detective Logan and Officers Gravel, Dukes and Lockard answered a call to West Lutton street Saturday night, to investigate a fight, they found Cecil Allen, negro, lying in a seriously injured condition in a doorway. They had him removed to the New Castle hospital, where it was found that he resided at 818 South

Jefferson street and had been hit on the forehead with a hatchet, sustaining a slight fracture of the skull.

A little later, John Taylor, negro, of 4 West Lutton street, appeared at the hospital suffering from knife wounds on the left shoulder. It was found that he was the assailant of Allen and after his injuries were attended to, he was removed to the city jail where he is being held pending the outcome of Allen's injury.

Taylor claims that Allen had been staying at his place until a few days ago when they had a dispute over a bill. Saturday night he alleges that Allen attacked him with a stone and a knife and that he used the hatchet in self defense.

Gasoline Fire Damages Truck

Machine Of Mooney Brothers Almost Destroyed In Blaze This Morning

The Chief Charles Linn and Truck B. were called to Bank street at 8 o'clock this morning, when a gasoline fire broke out from the tank of a truck belonging to the Mooney Brothers. The truck was parked on the street and the fire spread rapidly, threatening to set fire to adjoining buildings.

According to S. A. Mooney they had just completed filling the tank on a London truck owned by them which had overflowed. After wiping up the gasoline they attempted to start the machine when the tank was instantly enveloped in flames. It is believed that a spark from the ignition set fire to the gasoline which had spilled over the engine. They had almost succeeded in extinguishing the blaze when the connection from the tank to the carburetor melted and the gasoline deluged from the tank burst into flame and spread over the ground towards adjoining buildings.

The Chief and Central department members went to the scene and succeeded in extinguishing the blaze. Several hundred dollars damage was done to the truck.

Stresemann Says Young Reparation Plan Has Flaws

German Foreign Minister Cables To Reichstag Reparations Negotiations

International News Service
BERLIN, June 24.—In a somewhat bitter address, before previous is pools telling of the whole-hearted enthusiasm with which the young plan was received in German officialdom, Dr. Gustav Stresemann, foreign minister of the German Republic, outlined the negotiations of the reparations committee of experts at Paris to the Reichstag today.

In almost his first sentence, Dr. Stresemann revealed that the Young plan is not looked upon as a permanent solution of post-war problems, as far as Germany is concerned.

"The Young plan is not an ideal solution," Dr. Stresemann declared. "Nobody in the world can tell whether it can be carried out successfully."

"But it eases the situation for the next ten years, and that is as far ahead as anyone can see."

Dr. Stresemann made the veiled charge that the United States had refused to offer any concessions in the reparations, although Germany's other former enemies did all in their power to cooperate in an amicable settlement.

In spite of his seemingly pessimistic and recriminatory outlook, Dr. Stresemann actually was defending the Young plan in his address to the German legislature. In expressing the guarded opinion that it "eases the situation," he was replying to the attacks of Nationalist members of the Reichstag, who have opposed acceptance of the plan from the beginning.

The Story Of The World War
43—German Defeats In Poland

AFTER DRIVING THE RUSSIANS OUT OF EAST PRUSSIA, GENERAL VON HINDENBURG, WHO HAD BEEN RAISED TO THE RANK OF FIELD-MARSHAL FOR HIS VICTORY AT TANNENBERG, INVADDED POLAND (SEPTEMBER, 1914) AND ADVANCED TO THE NIEMEN.

THE RUSSIAN ARMY OF GENERAL RENNEN-KAMPF LAY BEYOND THE RIVER, HOLDING STRONG DEFENSIVE POSITIONS. AN ILL-TIMED GERMAN ASSAULT UPON THE RUSSIAN LINE WAS REPULSED, AND VON HINDENBURG WAS OBLIGED TO RETREAT TO THE GERMAN FRONTIER.

GENERAL MACKENSEN

VON HINDENBURG THEN MADE A DETERMINED THRUST AT THE VISTULA SOUTH OF WARSAW TO DRAW OFF THE RUSSIAN FORCES THAT WERE BESIEGING THE MIGHTY AUSTRIAN FORTRESS OF PRZEMYSL IN GALICIA. AT THE SAME TIME HE SENT GENERAL MACKENSEN TO ATTACK WARSAW.

BOTH ATTACKS FAILED, BUT VON HINDENBURG SUCCEEDED IN MAKING THE RUSSIANS ABANDON THE SIEGE OF PRZEMYSL. OCTOBER 15, 1914, MACKENSEN WAS DEFEATED ON THE VISTULA BY THE RUSSIANS UNDER GRAND DUKE NICHOLAS, AND THE GERMANS WERE FORCED TO RETIRE FROM POLAND.

College Crews Ready For Race At Poughkeepsie

Greatest Collegiate Rowing Crews In Country Battle For Supremacy Today

By Louis J. Walsh

Rowing crews from 15 colleges and universities are expected to compete in the annual regatta at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., today. The regatta, which is the largest of its kind in the country, will feature a number of exciting races between the top crews from the East.

The regatta was founded in 1892 and has since that time become one of the most important events in the rowing calendar. It is held annually on the Hudson River, just north of New York City. The regatta is open to all colleges and universities in the United States and Canada.

This year's regatta is expected to be one of the best in the history of the event. The crews are in excellent shape and the races should be very close. The regatta will be held over a period of several days, with a variety of events for both men and women.

Lawrence County League Doings

Umpires Assigned

Local umpire, Gillick, commissioner of the Lawrence County League, today submitted the names of the umpires to be used this week in the league games, and also the schedule for the games for the week.

TUESDAY, JUNE 25
Wampum at Hillsville, Cuzma and Hudson.
Deserider at Slovak A. C. Dunn and Gilliam.

THURSDAY, JUNE 27
Italian A. A. at Wampum, Nohle and McCann.
P. R. K. at Deserider, Hudson and Cuzma.

FRIDAY, JUNE 28
Hillsville at P. R. R. Gilliam and Dunn.
SATURDAY, JUNE 29
Slovak at Italian A. A. McCann and Nohle.

Manager Robert "Bob" Robertson of Wampum, has just about conceded the first-half of the season race to the Penns team. Robertson sends a warning to the McClellan managed crew to watch to their laurels in the second-half. The Wampum team is only recently playing fine baseball, having gotten away to a bad start.

Manager Carm Sacco of the Italian A. A. takes exception to the fact that the Penns team is just about "in" in the first-half of the Lawrence County League race. The Penns team has won eleven and lost one, and if they win five more they can clinch the honors. They have eight games yet to be played, and can finish with 15 and 5 if they drop four of the eight. The Italians have six more to play and need to win them all to clinch the title.

Killed In 1,800-Foot Fall From Parachute

CLEVELAND, O., June 24.—William Lewis 24, Parma, fell from a plane today afternoon, crashed 1,800 feet to the earth when both his belts of a parachute in which he was making his first exhibition jump, gave way and released his body in the air. His exhibition was a feature of the opening of the Pleasant Valley Commercial Air Field, Parma.

Lewis' body was crashed almost beyond recognition. It landed on the field near Pleasant Valley and State roads only a mile and a quarter from his home at Pleasant Valley and York Roads.

While the Philadelphia have been going like a house afire, the New Yorks are all set to play the role of visiting firemen.

Mass. Tech. Huskies Regatta 'Dark Horse'

For the first time since the inception of the Poughkeepsie regatta on the Hudson River, Massachusetts Institute of Technology (M. I. T. for short) has entered a crew in the famous event. For eight years rowing has struggled for existence at this school and now it seems ready to burst into glory. Their crew, even though this is their first long test, is considered to have at least an even break. They are headed Harris, coxswain; Byrne, stroke; MacLeod, No. 7; Richardson, 6; Bennett, 5; Dolben, 4; Hoyt, 3; Evans, 2, and Tittman, captain and bow. Captain Tittman and Coach William Haines, who, by the way, once coached Harvard, feel confident that their chances are as good as anyone's.

SORDS POINTS

Sir Tom To Try, Try Again

By JACK SORDS
Sports Cartoonist Writer For Central Press

Thirty years of failure might dampen the enthusiasm of most any man, but Sir Thomas Lipton. Three decades of vain effort have only whetted the desire of the 78-year-old English sailmaker to try again.

A long long time ago Sir Thomas decided he was going to win that international trophy of yachting, the America's Cup, for Great Britain. He is still trying.

Lipton's ninth challenge to his constantly successful American foe has been accepted. The next try by Sir Thomas will be made off Newport.

R. L. in September, 1930. His first try was way back in 1899.

After his failure in 1899, Sir Thomas tried in 1901, 1902 and in 1920. Sir Tom was to compete for the cup in 1914 but the World War spoiled his plans. There were too many German submarines in the Atlantic for the health of Paul British yachts.

The 1923 event will be the 15th race for the cup which, since the famous yacht America won it in 1851, has resided on this side of the Atlantic.

Sir Thomas 1930 challenger is still untried.

Chicago Gunmen Invade Philadelphia In To Guest Capone If Released

PHILADELPHIA, June 24.—The information that Alvin Karpis, Al Capone and his gang are in the hands of the state police in the Philadelphia county prison, has caused a number of Chicago gunmen to travel to the city to see if they can get their hands on the prisoners.

Efforts to free Capone are due to be launched this week. The first step is to get him out of the prison. The first step is to get him out of the prison.

TASTE above everything

Only tobaccos that yield the sweetness and ripeness of age are used in the Chesterfield blend—selected tobaccos, bought for cigarettes, stored away, then blended and "cross-blended" the Chesterfield way.

And that's why more and more smokers are saying, "I'd rather have a Chesterfield."
